REGISTRATION ERRORS FOUND

Some Voters Register in Wrong Precinct and Others Who Registered are Not on Lists

MUST REREGISTER OCT. 4

Persons Who Change Precincts Have to Register Again—Provisions For Women Changing Names

Political workers have discovered, since copies have been made of the names of men and women who registered September 4, that some who actually registered are not included on the lists and that a number registered in the wrong precincts.

In both instances it will be necessary to register again on October 4, it is declared, if the persons affected wish to vote.

This also suggests that persons who are anxious to vote see the committee man in their precinct at once to determine whether they are properly registered. Each committee man has a list and the number of each person who registered in September.

Persons who registered, but whose name through some clerical error, does not appear on the official lists, merely have to go through the formality of registering again on October 4, but those who registered in the wrong precinct, in addition to registering again, will have to fill out another blank provided by the board of registration, in which they must show the previous registration, giving the number of the precinct, and the facts as to how such previous registration was made.

Voters who move from one precinct to another in the same township after the first registration have to follow the same procedure, registering again and showing why.

Attention was also called today to the fact that women who change their name by divorce or marriage, after having once registered, shall file with the election board on election day a certified copy of the decree of the court, as in the case of divorce, or the certificate of marriage, before such a voter will be entitled to vote. It is stipulated that the election board shall preserve such certified copy of marriage certificate and return it to the county auditor where it may be obtained by the voter.

Where changes are made in registration of persons who register the second time, because of having registered in the wrong precinct in September, the registration board is required to certify such changes to the county auditor, who in turn makes the correction in the registration lists given to the election inspector, so that by no chance a voter duly qualified shall be denied the right of franchise.

The republican precinct committees who may be consulted about registration are as follows:

Ripley township, precinct No. 1, Byron Ball; No. 2, Fred Jessop; No. 3, Fred Brooks.

Rushville township, precinct No. Continued on Page Two

Former Rushville Boy Expires in Indianapolis

Elmo Demmer, age 26 years, died yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Demmer, 1815 College Ave., Indianapolis, after an extended illness of tuberculosis. The deceased was a former resident of this city, having lived here with his parents until about eight years ago when they moved to Indianapolis. He saw service during the world war.

Mr. Demmer is survived by his parents; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Keating, and the Misses Mary and Agnes Demmer, and two brothers, James and Alexander. The deceased was a nephew of Mrs. Lote Carter and Mrs. Denny Ryan, living in this city.

The funeral services will be conducted Monday morning at the SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral in Indianapolis.

BACK TO PRE-WAR BASIS

Vice-President of Indiana Auto Concern Makes Announcement

(By United Press)

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 25.—An announcement was made today that the Crow Elkhart Corporation had returned to the pre-war prices, R. R. Donaldson, vice-president of the corporation, said today.

This is the first case of a manufacturer of medium price cars making a reduction, he stated. He gave the reason for the reduction because of the general condition in the automobile industry.

"This action on our part," he declared, "will undoubtedly result in increased activities in the motor plant."

MOTION PICTURE OF PICNIC REACHES CITY

Film Made by Pathe Exchange is Purchased and Will be Shown at Princess

GOOD EFFECTS ARE OBTAINED

The motion picture taken of the Community picnic which was held in the city park on September 17, arrived this morning, and will be shown during all of next week at the Princess theater Monday night. The photograph was made by the Pathe exchange of Indianapolis, and over 500 feet was taken of the picnic.

A private showing was given this morning and many local people are easily recognized among the different views. Each township is taken separately and the women who had charge of the booths are given "close-up" views, all of which are very good. Some comical situations are presented when people were caught unawares. Walter F. Easley, manager of the Princess theater, has purchased the film, together with the negative. The picture may also be loaned to the Purdue Extension department, after its showing here.

SATURDAY DULL DAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Nothing Scheduled For Trial as Hudson Case Was Expected to Continue Over Today

DIVORCE MATTERS ARE HEARD

Circuit court was exceptionally quiet today following a busy week with jury trials. The case yesterday of the state against Orville Hudson, charged with encouraging the negligence of a juvenile, was expected to take more than one day, and it so happened that nothing was scheduled on the calendar today.

Judge Sparks this morning heard the matter of support in the divorce case filed this week of Bertha Hendricks against Elmer Hendricks. No decision was made on the support clause, and the court issued a restraining order against the defendant, as she had asked for in her complaint, setting out that he had threatened her life.

The divorce case of Vohland vs Vohland was sent to Fayette county this morning by Judge Sparks. Lettie Vohland, defendant in the case, filed the petition earlier in the week and it was acted upon favorably this morning in circuit court. Charles Vohland is the plaintiff in the action for divorce.

MANILLA REVIVAL GOES ON

The evangelistic meetings which are in progress at Manilla at the Christian church will continue over Sunday and throughout next week. The Rev. J. P. Myers is the evangelist and Carolyn Johnson is the singing evangelist. The people of that vicinity are cordially invited to attend the remaining days of the services.

SAYS JAMIESON AIDED THE PAPER

Witness Asserts Democratic Financial Directors Put $4,000 in "Stars and Stripes"

SECRETARY ON THE STAND

Committee Turns to Ohio Governorship Campaign in 1918 Following Lockwood Testimony

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 25.—W. D. Jamieson, financial director of the democratic national committee, gave $4,000 to Mrs. E. M. Parke, his secretary, which she put into the "Stars and Stripes," a paper for the war veterans, Mrs. Parke testified before the senate campaign investigating committee today.

She refused to tell the names of other democrats who loaned money to put into the paper.

No member of the democratic national committee has ever loaned money for the paper at any time or invested in it, she declared.

Mrs. Parke testified that several republicans have made efforts to force her to sell the paper.

Senator Kenyon announced the adjournment of the expenditures committee at Washington and that they will not go to St. Louis to conduct an investigation there October 18.

Guy Mason, a Washington representative of the League to Enforce Peace testified before the committee concerning the contributions to the league of $815,000 fund.

He said he was partly responsible for Bernard E. Baruch's $47,000 contribution.

"We tried to get $75,000 from him," Mason said, "but he only gave us $47,000. We also tried to get Henry Ford to give $200,000 but he did not give a nickel."

The committee planned to turn its attention today to the Ohio governorship campaign of 1918, during which it was implied by a witness at the committee's hearing yesterday, Governor Cox received a concealed contribution from the Dayton Metal Products Company. The implied charge, made by George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, led to the summoning of H. F. Talbot, who, Lockwood said, was president of the Metal Products Company in 1918, and officials of the company and of the City National Bank of Dayton.

Lockwood testified that in June, 1918, the Dayton Metal Products Company paid a $5,000 personal note of Governor Cox, and added that "It appears to me from all the circumstances that it must have been contribution to Mr. Cox's campaign fund."

Jackson, Ohio, Sept. 25.—An explosion in the plant of the Jackson Iron and Steel Company cost the lives of three men today and injured six others.

Traded Rushville Buggy For 80 Acres of Land on Iowa Prairie

That Was in 1868, But a Few Days Before Coming to Indiana, John A. Hood, Who Has Been Visiting Here, Sold a Quarter Section at Auction for $500 an Acre.

John A. Hood, who was reared in Rush county, a short distance east of Sexton, traded a Poundstone buggy bought in Rushville in 1868 for eighty acres of prairie land in Carroll county, Iowa.

He and his wife packed their belongings in a few small boxes and hit the trail for the "far west"—it was so regarded then. Just before coming to Indiana last week to attend the G. A. R. encampment at Indianapolis, he sold a quarter section of Carroll county land at auction for $500 an acre and still has 480 acres left. Mr. Hood said he wanted the owner of the 80 acres to take the horse along with the buggy but it was refused.

It's "God's country" out there, Mr. Hood believes, but he still has

ERA OF STABILITY HARDING PROMISE

Republican Nominee For President Addresses Thousands of Commercial Travelers

HITS AUTOCRATIC METHODS

Says There is Opinion We Have Had Enough of Government Excessively Centralized

(By United Press)

Marion, O., Sept. 25.—An era of business stability and of business-like government was promised by Senator Harding today in a front-porch speech to a gathering of several thousand commercial travelers who came from all parts of the Harding and Coolidge Traveling Men's League.

The business methods of the Democratic administration, both in the conduct of its own affairs and in its relations to private enterprise, were denounced by the Republican nominee as "meddling and autocratic" to a degree threatening industrial chaos. He outlined a policy of common counsel in contrast to "one-man judgment" and pledged himself to "an idealism based on such sense that it does not treat the nation's business with suspicion and contempt."

"I believe that everywhere in the land," said Senator Harding, "there is the opinion that we have had enough of government excessively centralized in executive powers; enough of autocratic government unwilling to heed counsel and advice; enough of government which ignores the representative branch and its close contact with the popular will. I want it very explicitly understood that my election to the executive office means a complete change from the one-man policy which has characterized our national government during the last seven years."

"I believe that the people of America need not be told that they pay the bills of administrative government, whose distension for war still remains overdistended for peace. It has become common knowledge that there are between 700,000 and 800,000 persons on the pay roll of the United States, who will be kept there of course, unless we have a new management. The people know very well that only an intelligent opposition prevented the present administration from making an expenditure of over $11,000,000,000 in a peace year, and the eleven billions would have been a reasonably large draft upon a people who in 1916 paid $1,000,000,000 for their current expenses of government. The people know already that when the war came upon us American business was facing disruption, and the American workman unemployment, and that another year of folly now would mean industrial plants, cold in idleness, Continued on Page Two

GUARD GARY STEEL PLANTS

Officials Hear They Are to be Next Subject of Bombing Campaign

(By United Press)

Gary, Ind., Sept. 25.—To prevent the success of a bomb plot officials of the steel plants here have arranged for a double patrol and barbed wire entanglements around the plants.

The statement was made today that the Gary steel officials received a tip a few days ago that the Reds had selected the Gary Mills as their next object of bombing campaign, to bring about disorder in the United States.

GRAND JURY BEGINS MURDER PROBE TODAY

Between 25 and 30 Witnesses From All Parts of County Here to Testify

GRAND JURORS SWORN IN

Between 25 and 30 witnesses from all parts of the county were present today to testify before the grand jury that was in session. The grand jurors were instructed this morning by Judge Sparks, and Ed J. Dolan of Union township was sworn in as foreman of the investigating body.

Twenty-five of the witnesses today were from Arlington and the vicinity of the scene of the murder which took place one week ago tonight, when Mrs. Cordelia Dunn was shot and killed by Fred Dunn, her husband.

Prosecutor Stevens stated that Dunn would not be brought before the grand jury, as his evidence was not needed. Several of the witnesses were from Carthage but no intimation of the investigation in that community was given out.

The grand jury was not expected to complete its work today, and will be in session again Monday, when the murder case investigation will be completed, which will mean that a report will be made at that time.

MASKED BANDITS LOOT TRAIN NEAR CHICAGO

Go Through Six Registered Mail Sacks and Obtain Between $10,000 and $80,000

STOP FLYER AT TUCKER, ILL.

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—Masked bandits early today robbed the mail car of the Illinois Central flyer, as the train was approaching Chicago and looted six registered mail sacks.

The loot in the sacks was estimated at between $10,000 and $80,000.

A check is being made to determine the exact amount.

The same train was recently robbed by Leroy Walton, who was killed in a revolver battle by the police after he had been apprehended. He obtained about $85,000.

The bandits forced the train to stop at a block signal at Tucker, Ill. The robbers then jumped into the mail train. Five clerks were bound hand and foot and two robbers investigated the sacks.

As the train was nearing Chicago the bandits forced the train crew to stop the train and they got off. Police squads have been scattered throughout that district in an attempt to apprehend the men.

PROBE GAMBLING CLIQUE

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—A reported gambling clique during the last world series was under investigation today by authorities in charge of the grand jury probe into the base ball scandal. It was reported that two gambling cliques operated during the 1919 world series between the White Sox and the Reds, one betting on Chicago and the other on Cincinnati to win.

FIRST STEP TO ORGANIZE TAKEN

Directors Elected and Committees Appointed to Write By-Laws and Incorporate Country Club

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Committee Reports 146 Pledged to Take Stock and Number Will Probably be Increased

The first steps toward the organization of a country club were taken last night at a meeting in the court house assembly room when nine directors were elected, a committee to incorporate the club was appointed and a committee to draw up the by-laws was selected.

The next meeting will be the call of the chairman, Will M. Sparks, who presided last night, and will probably be held whenever the by-laws committee is ready to report.

Approximately one hundred of 146 men who have pledged themselves to take a share of stock in the club, were present for the meeting and a very active interest was taken by everyone, indicating that the club will be a success from the start because of the support it has.

The names of those who have agreed to join were read when the election of directors was under consideration, and after the meeting, three more names were added to the list. It is expected that this number will be increased as a few prospective members have not yet been interviewed.

There was considerable discussion as to how the directors should be elected and for what terms, but it was finally decided that there should be nine directors, elected for terms of three, two and one years, so that three new members of the board would be chosen every year.

A. L. Gary moved that the nine men on the committee were instrumental in forming the organization, be elected directors, but Judge Sparks said that he could not serve on the board because of the time which would be required. Will M. Frazee suggested that in view of the fact that there were a number of men outside of Rushville who had taken stock, one or more of the directors should be selected from outside Rushville.

With this idea in view, J. W. Anderson was appointed on the board in place of Judge Sparks, which makes the personnel of the first board of directors as follows:

Dr. J. C. Sexton, Harry G. Francis and Robert E. Mansfield, to serve for three years; J. W. Anderson, John A. Tittsworth and Earl H. Payne, to serve for terms of two years, and Robert L. Tompkins, Will O. Feudner and I. L. Endres to serve for one year.

The meeting voted to empower the board of directors to take options on sites for club grounds and report to the club membership. Members of the board suggested that any member of the club having ideas in regard to a site, should present them to the board, which wished to have the views of all the members.

The chairman appointed Dr. Sexton, Mr. Mansfield and Donald Smith as a committee to draw up Continued on Page Eight

I. & C. HAULS FIRST HOGS

Stock Pens Will be Constructed at Hackleman's Stop Soon

The first carload of hogs shipped over the local division of the I. & C. traction line a few days ago was consigned by Esta Webb living west of Rushville. The hogs were loaded at Hackleman's stop, west of Rushville, where the I. & C. stock yards will be located, shortly after five a. m. and were unloaded in the stock yards in Indianapolis before seven o'clock the same morning. Construction of the pens will be started as soon as material can be obtained.

The I. & C. also has received two steel trailers for use when traffic is congested, and has two more ordered.

CARTAGE WINS OPENER

High School Basketball Team Defeats Westland Friday Night

The Cartage high school basketball team opened their season last night in Cartage, by defeating the Westland high school by the score of 25 to 13. Cartage has prospects this season of winning a majority of their games, and in their line-up are four new players. The game last night is the first to be reported this season, and speaks well of the Cartage team. The next game will be played between Cartage and Arlington at Arlington next Friday.

The Cartage second team last night was also victorious over the Westland second team by the score of 4 to 2.

Grand Jury Discloses World Series Crookedness

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25—Convincing evidence that crookedness existed in organized baseball, has been obtained by Cooke county grand jury, according to a statement here today by H. H. Brigham, department foreman.

The alleged crookedness, however, Brigham said, is not widespread. It is confined, he declared to a few players and is caused by unscrupulous gang of professional gamblers.

He declared that if the evidence warranted indictments will be returned.

9,000,000 WOMEN WILL VOTE NOV. 2

They Undoubtedly Hold The Balance of The Political Power, Is Estimated

MAINE IS AN EXAMPLE

32 Percent of The Women Voted And if Conditions Over U. S. Are Same a Big Vote Expected

Washington, Sept. 25.—About 9,000,000 women will vote in the November election and they undoubtedly hold the balance of political power. This statement is based on a computation made from the woman's vote in the Maine election.

About 80,000 women voted in the Maine election. Based upon the census of 1910 that number is 32 percent of the number of women 21 years of age who live in Maine. The Maine women number, according to the 1910 census, 248,309.

In the United States, according to latest census statistics, there are 26,883,566 women of voting age. If the ratio of 32 percent which existed in the Maine election prevails in all the States, and it probably will as the women generally will want to vote for the first time, there will be cast in the November elections an aggregate woman vote of 8,602,741, or nearly nine millions. In the Northern states the percentage probably will be higher, and in the Southern states lower because in the "Solid South" the black man is largely disfranchised, and the negro woman will receive the same political discrimination in that section. But the Nation's average probably will be about 32 percent, which will give nine millions.

Similar statistics show that there are 29,577,690 men of voting age in the United States. In the presidential election of 1916 there were cast 18,528,743 ballots, 62 percent of the total male population 21 years of age. It can hardly be expected that so large a percentage of the women will vote, but it may be safely said that at least 32 percent of the them will.

Therefore it is evident to all observers that the women now hold the political balance of power. In the Maine election about 75 percent of the women voted the republican ticket. If that percentage should prevail in all the states north of the Mason and Dixon line and in the West a republican landslide of unprecedented magnitude would occur. That landslide is confidently expected by the republican managers and indeed in Washington is practically already acknowledged by democratic observers.

But it will not require 75 percent of the nine million women voting the republican ticket to cause a landslide to Harding and Coolidge. If 32 percent of the women voters in New York participate in the election it will add nearly a million votes in the Empire State. In 1916 Hughes carried New York by more than 100,000, the total vote being 1,706,354. Had the women voted then a 100,000 plurality would have been increased several times over.

In Pennsylvania a 32 percent ratio would have added nearly 750,000 woman's votes to the total of nearly 1,300,000 cast for Hughes in 1916. Hughes carried Pennsylvania by 181,950, or about one fourth of the women votes that may be cast in Pennsylvania in November.

Wilson carried Ohio in 1916 by 80,503. In Ohio if the 32 percent ratio occurs nearly half a million women will vote—eleven times Wilson's plurality in 1916.

There can be no question but that the women now hold the key to the National political situation and can throw victory to republicans or democrats. Judging from the way they voted in the Maine election it would seem that a great majority of the newly enfranchised citizens are preparing to line up throughout the country, except in the South, for Harding and Coolidge.

Every intelligent observer must agree that the result in Maine was a complete repudiation of the League of Nations by the women, and a tremendous republican victory, which is ominous of democratic defeat in November. Women can justly claim a great share of the victory in Maine. Had the women voted for the League the victory would have been equally significant of democratic victory in November.

A Better Way

The government spend much money in the printing of bulletins that are circulated for the purpose of improving industrial conditions. It is one of the things which have contributed to the making of a great country.

These bulletins are sent to the people who apply for them, and possibly to some who do not. Just how extensively they are circulated in this matter we do not know, but it is doubtful if the valuable information they disseminate reaches the majority of the people for whom it is intended, especially in the field of agriculture.

We believe a more satisfactory and profitable means of stimulating more advance methods in the various lines of industry would be to publish the bulletins in the newspapers and periodicals that reach most generally the people concerned.

Take the farmer as an example. Practically every one raises corn, wheat, oats, rye, potatoes, hay, etc. Bulletins on such crops should be printed in the country papers. These papers reach practically every farmer in the country, and would be the logical ones to use.

Bulletins on special subjects, such as bee culture, poultry raising on an extensive scale, etc., could be printed in either the country press or journals specializing in such matters.

The same would be true in all lines of industry, science, manufactures, etc., a reasonable price being paid for such advertising.

In no other way could the public be reached so quickly and effectively and unquestionably the results would more than justify the expenditure.

Sooner or later the government will discard its present ancient method of disseminating valuable information and adopt the one more fitted for the progressive age in which we move.

Sooner is better than later.

Self-Condensation

Franklin Roosevelt told a Main audience that he favored the weeding out of the inefficient clerks in the federal service and the cutting down of the force. The democratic administration has had a chance to do that very thing ever since the war ended but today they have on the payroll over 300,000 more employees than were required to do the work in 1913. It was the denial by the last congress of the extravagant demands of the administration for funds for the present fiscal year has resulting now in the discharge of thousands of unnecessary clerks from the departments. A large part of the $2,500,000,000 saved by the congress from the demands for money would, if the entire amount had been granted, have been frittered away in useless salaries. In view of the actual accomplishments of the republicans, Mr. Roosevelt's wordy protestations fail to convince.

Why do some people wear furs on a hot summer day, you ask? Very simple. It's about the only way they can induce other people to notice them, now that hosiery displays are becoming a drug in the market.

If the present destructive rate of speed is maintained, we fear the reputations of many of our politicians will have to go back, take a bath, fumigate, and start all over again.

We advise every man and woman to exercise their inalienable right of franchise and vote exactly as they please in the coming national election. But we hope they please to vote as we do.

So far Candidate Cox has not blamed Will Hays or the republican national committee for the wrecking of his train.

People who are considered lucky are generally found to be plucky instead.

Don't tell your husband "you told him so." It's galling enough for him to remember, without being reminded.

THE REAL THING NEEDED

By NICK WEST

"Peace, Progress and Prosperity!"

With typical temerity,
And sonorous celerity

The Democrats proclaim
This phrase of fine facility,
Accenting, with agility,
And tenuous tranquility

Their optimistic aim.
Despite the murky haze on it

The show they mean to brazen it,
So broad-cast they emblazon it—
And on its sound depend,
To hide the fact that never yet

They've by one lone endeavor met
The country's woes, nor ever let
The war come to an end.

I'd like to know what Peace there is,
From trouble what release there is;

Of war what real surcease there is
When treaties do not treat;
Or how we can Progress a bit,
Or Prosper, in the stress of it,
When the H. C. L.—the mess of it—
Swats all we wear or eat.

Peace! Give us all you will of it!
And Progress! Hasten the thrill of it!

Prosperity? Our fill of it!
But first give us a trace of them,
On this we're all agreed.

And let us feel the grace of them.
Fine words won't take the place of them.

The Real Thing's what we need.

WHAT MAKES A BANK GROW?

Careful, thoughtful, diligent men and women are more likely to have money to put in a bank than careless, idle, thoughtless men and women.

A careful person in choosing a Bank considers first, safe conservative management, and then—SERVICE—which includes Courtesy, Accuracy, sufficiently well trained men to do the bank's work quickly, smoothly and accurately.

He wants, also a commercial bank to be able to lend him as much credit as his business needs and is entitled to borrow.

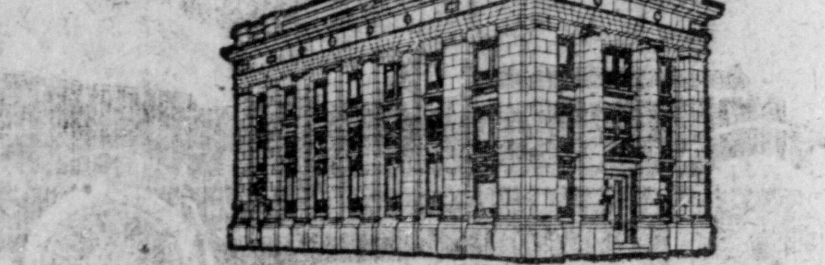

So when you see a Bank grow from year to year you may know that it is the kind of Bank into which the kind of people who have money like to put their money.

WANDERER CASE GOING TO TRIAL

Ex-Lieutenant Charged With Murdering Girl Wife of a Year and a
"Ragged Stranger"

TO BE TRIED IN CHICAGO

Case Was Given Nationwide Publicity Because of The Mystery Attached to it

Chicago, Sept. 25—Charged with murdering his girl-wife of a year and of slaying a "ragged stranger" whom he is alleged to have hired to stage a fake hold-up so he could kill his wife Carl Wanderer ex-army lieutenant, is scheduled to go on trial for his life here October 4.

The Wanderer case was given nationwide publicity because of the mystery attached to it. Wanderer, just out of the army, was working in his father's butcher shop. One night, according to the first story he told police, he returned home with his wife to find a ragged dressed stranger standing in the vestibule of their home. The "ragged stranger", police said Wanderer told them, ordered them to throw up their hands.

Wanderer stated it was dark in the vestibule. Instead of complying with the stranger's demand, Wanderer fired. Then the police arrived they found the young wife and the alleged hold-up man dead.

Wanderer for a time convinced the police that he was telling the truth until they traced the ownership of the pistol used by the "ragged stranger." It was found that the revolver had originally been sold to Wanderer.

After a grueling cross-examination, Wanderer is alleged to have confessed to State's Attorney MacLay Hoynes that he had killed both. He killed his wife, about to become a mother, because, according to the alleged confession, he was tired of civilian life and wanted to get back in the army.

It's a softer life in the army", he told interviewers.

He killed the "ragged stranger", the alleged confession stated, because he wanted to prevent any double crossing.

According to the story, police say Wanderer told them, he hired the "ragged stranger" in a West Madison street lodging house for three dollars. To date his body has not been identified, though it has been lying in the county morgue for many months.

Following the alleged confession Wanderer stated he didn't care what happened to him. He said his mind was at rest and he was ready for the walk to the gallows.

The state plans to demand that he be hung.

TO BAR NEGROES FROM EXCLUSIVE SECTION

Capitol Avenue Presidents in India-

INJUNCTION SUIT IS FILED

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25—Protective associations in cities throughout the country are watching with interest an injunction suit pending in Superior court seeking to restrain the erection of high fences around the property of a negro, which he recently bought in a "white district."

The suit is that of Dr. Lucian Merriweather colored dentist who bought the property on North Capitol avenue in a section heretofore occupied exclusively by white residents. A ten foot fence runs along one side of the negro's property from an adjacent one.

A temporary injunction order has been issued pending the hearing of the case. This was issued after the ten-foot fence had been erected and limited the fence on the other side to six feet.

Member of the Capitol avenue Protective association, an organization designed to keep negroes from moving into the community are fighting the case. The suit is regarded as a test of strength and if the whites are victorious like proceedings are expected to be started in the other sections of the city where negroes have invaded. Also, if they are victorious similar organizations in other cities are preparing to resort to the fence method to bar the negro from their neighborhood.

ARLINGTON TO OPEN THE SEASON SUNDAY

Will Meet Shelbyville Commercial at Shelbyville in First Game
Of the Fall

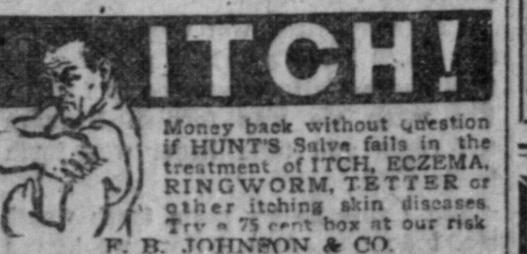

HAS SOME COLLEGE PLAYERS

The Arlington A. C. football team will play the Shelbyville Commercial tomorrow at Shelbyville in the first game of the football season for this part of the state. Coach Hutchinson of the Arlington team is confident that he has a bunch of players that can give any team a good stiff game.

The Arlington team last year had a fast team and played some of the strongest team in the state. Ross Hutchinson, a former college player, is coaching, and Howard Hawk is acting as manager. At present time Coach Hutchinson has 18 men on the string, all of whom have had college and high school football experience.

The probable line-up for the game tomorrow will be J. Ferris, center; T. Wilcoxen, right guard; C. Winslow, right tackle; M. Whicker, right end; R. Kemp, left guard; J. Whicker, left tackle; A. Metsker, left end; L. Beach, full back; Northam, left half; C. Northam, right half; W. Wilcoxen, quarter back.

The Arlington team will probably play a return game at Shelbyville again next Sunday, as they have no game scheduled for that day.

Members of the First division of the Industrial club will entertain the ladies of the second division next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Offutt in East Sixth street. All the members are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCoy of near Greensburg had as their guests yesterday at a noon dinner, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Lizzie Evans of Bellevue, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Lon Innis, of Milroy, Mrs. Lou Hughes and Mrs. Mary McCoy of Greensburg.

The Tri Kappa sorority will be entertained Monday evening at the home of Miss Olive Buell living east of the city. All the members are cordially invited to attend the meeting and those who are planning to go on the traction car are requested to go on the 7:01.

Mrs. Channee Duncan was hostess for the members of the S. E. T. club yesterday afternoon at her home in East Seventh street. The guests present enjoyed the afternoon socially over various needlework. At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served.

Descendants of Henry Guffin will hold a family reunion Wednesday evening, September 29, at the home of Mrs. Sarah Guffin, 623 North Harrison street. A pitch-in supper will be served. All members of the family are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rees entertained eighty-five members of the Young Married Peoples class of the Plum Creek church Friday evening at their home east of Gings. Two clever contests were introduced which created merriment and much pleasure. Mrs. Vern Smith and Harry McMillin were the winners of the prizes at the close of the contests. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Hiers and Mrs. Irvin Walker, served refreshments of sandwiches, salad, cake and coffee. Later announcement will be made of the hostess for the next meeting to be held in two weeks.

NO PREACHING SUNDAY

There will be no preaching services Sunday at the First Presbyterian church, but the regular Sunday school will be held in the morning. The Rev. George H. Mitchell of White Bear, Minn., was expected to fill the pulpit Sunday, but a communication from him this morning stated that his wife was ill, and he would be unable to come. Providing that his wife recovers, he will be here next Sunday, October 3.

8 POUND GIRL BORN

An eight pound baby girl was born this morning to the wife of Luther Colestock, at their home, 301 West First street. The child has been named Ruth Ellen.

RIVER AND FOUNTAIN

ONCE there was a Little River running near a beautiful Fountain in a garden.

In the sunlight Fountain throwing its stream of water made wonderful colors and it sparkled and splashed as it fell into the big basin beneath it.

"Oh, how beautiful it is," said the Little River looking up at the Fountain.

"How I wish I could sparkle and make beautiful colors as it does in the sunlight."

The Fountain tossed its waters higher and splashed louder when it heard the Little River's lament.

"I am sorry for you," it said, "for it must be quite dull down where you are, and very tiresome, too, running on as you have to over the rough stones.

"The world is very beautiful up here and as I dance and splash everyone who comes this way stops to admire me. Yes, I pity you and I do not wonder that you admire me and wish you could be in my place."

The Little River did not dare reply to the Fountain. It was too far above it, and as all the Fountain said seemed true to Little River, it ran along about its work, still wishing it was beautiful.

That night when all was still and the water at the Fountain had been turned off, a big tree, swaying over the river, spoke to it.

"Little River, I heard you complaining today that the big fountain was very beautiful and you wished you were like it," said the Tree.

"Oh, yes, but I am only a lowly little river and can never hope to be like the lovely Fountain," replied Little River.

"Yes, the Fountain is beautiful," said the Tree, "but do you not know that it is your water that supplies the beautiful Fountain and if you were not here there would be no Fountain?"

Little River almost forgot to move, it was so surprised. "It cannot be true," it said. "I never could get up there; you must be mistaken."

"It is true," said the Tree, "the water that sparkles and flashes at the Fountain comes from here. It is true that some man-made power forces it to the fountain bed, but the water comes from you, Little River, so do not envy the Fountain any more for without you the Fountain would not be beautiful."

The next morning, in the sunlight the Little River ran so swiftly over the rocks and stones that it almost jumped from its bed, it was so happy, and the big Fountain looking down upon it wondered how it could seem so joyous.

But though the Fountain was as beautiful as before, Little River was never again envious for was it not from it that the Fountain got its beauty?

Little River never stopped to tell the Fountain what it knew. "I could not be any happier," said Little River, "and it might make the Fountain sad to know that its loveliness came from a lowly little river."

Elaine Hammerstein at Princess

"It's all in the point of view," and in Elaine Hammerstein's newest Selznick Picture, "The Point of View," the question of whether or not it is best to swallow family pride and take the world's buffetings with a smile is expounded in a story that is full of the drama of life.

"The Point of View" will be shown at the Princess theatre today. It is the story of the Thorncroft family, and aggregation of persons with blue-blooded traditions, impoverished fortunes and an incapacity to cope with the world's problems.

Marjorie Thorncroft, portrayed by Elaine Hammerstein, is the only practical member of the household and sacrifices her own happiness to further the ambitions of her relatives. She marries a man whom she does not love in order to be able through his money, to provide a European musical education for her violinist brother. The brother fails in his aspirations, and then the storm breaks.

Edith Ellis, author of a number of stage successes, wrote "The Point of View" and Alan Crosland directed. Included in the supporting cast are Rockcliffe Fellowes, Arthur Houseman, Hugh Huntley, Helen Lindroth, Cornish Beck, and Warren Cook.

Texas Guinan at Mystic

Texas Guinan, long a favorite of Rushville movie fans tops the bill at the Mystic today in a stirring western drama, "The Sacrifice." Billy West and Billy Franey also lend their efforts in a most enjoyable program.

"The White Dove," a Robertson-Cole special in which H. B. Warner will be seen at the Mystic Theater for two days starting Monday sounds the depths of human frailty and in most dramatic fashion proves that even the strongest is weak at times.

The picture is founded on the novel of the same name by William J. Locke, the famous English novelist, who never penned a more powerful story than this narrative of "the sins of the father" which are visited upon the son. The central character, played by Mr. Warner, is Sylvester Lanyon, a British physician, who remembers his wife now dead, as the finest woman who ever lived.

He does not realize the secret which is in the heart of his fine old father, a country gentleman, who remembers vividly the day when the daughter-in-law came to him and confessed that momentarily she had given way to the caresses of a former lover. She was penitent, and the father, in his deep knowledge of humanity, knew that she repented and would sin no more.

He never suspects that this will come to the ears of the son, from whom he has kept the secret. But the man in the case, a close friend of the son, Sylvester Lanyon, becomes the victim of a runaway accident, and dies in the home of the doctor, not however, before he has gasped out, in delirium, the secret of his love for the dead wife of his friend.

Dr. Lanyon is embittered. He leaves his father and his little girl whom he fears may not be his own child, and goes to London. While there he sees acted out a drama which teaches him tolerance and reconciles him to what heretofore he has considered a ruined life.

YOU know other day when I tell you bouta go een dat restaurant and make a waiter mad dreenka too moocha coffee? Well, lasa night I invit my frien go weeth me een dat place. I no lika dat waiter and he no lika me, too, so I feegure was gooda idee getta pretty hungry so could eat everything before he have time for taka back to da cook.

But I tink my frien getta leetle deegust. He say, "Wot's matter, Pietro, you eat too queeck?" He tella me I getta indigest eef eata so fast. I say wot's deefrence—eef eata queeck getta indigest, and eef no eata queeck I am still hungry.

My frien say I should geeva tip for da waiter when we stoppa eat and go home. I was een da fleever one time when he tip and I no like ver mooch. So I tella my frien mebbe was besta idee just skid leetle bit. But you know I gotta wrong idee bouta wot was dat tip when my frien explaina weeth me. So I tella heem alla right eef dat waiter no taka my food back to da cook I tip heem and eef he do I hit heem.

I aska my frien wot was besta way for tip. He say when pay for da food geeva waiter feefty cents for tip. But when we was feenish I geeva ten cents and tella heem was justa leetle skid.

Indian Styles In The Fall Blouses

By "MARJORIE"

(Written for United Press)

New York, Sept. 25.—All of the season's fashion offerings are announcing that this is to be a combination salad year as far as garb is concerned and blouses are heralding this fact more loudly of all style trophies.

The day of the one-color, one-material blouse is a thing of the sartorial past. Two colors and two fabrics are an absolute necessity, and the nearer the garment is to Joseph's coat effect, the better. Another high spot in blouse style is that any blouse that's in, must be out. It can stay outside the skirt band in one of many ways—tie-back long Russian peplum, apron, panels—but never inside can it be.

The Avenue is showing chic models every day that exploit these new fashion trends. One of the most novel combinations is that of georgette or satin with fine leather or visca kid panels. A leading house shows such a model in rust georgette with a front panel of the same colored kid. The blouse is shirred into a short peplum which falls over the skirt, and soft ribbons of rust catch the fullness of the georgette sleeves at the wrist.

Panels of duvetyne on blouses of georgette or satin are very popular. These panels are generally of a contrasting hue and are lavishly adorned. Thus, one house shows a model of peacock blue georgette with panel of chow brown duvetyne. This panel is covered with a scroll design in gold braid. Other models are shown in such color combinations as leaf brown and burnt orange, midnight and electric blue, rust and canary yellow, cherry or "folly" red and black, or reseda and emerald green.

The vogue of garish and elaborate trimmings is still on, but the Oriental seems giving way to the Indian, both as to design and coloring. Thus, the overworked combination of Chinese red and Algerian blue is giving way to the Aztec coloring of crimson and canary, or touches of brick.

Scroll work and conventional patterns continue to be worked out in gay wools, chenille, metallic gold or silver threads, or beads and buttons. The ordinary tin trouser button is found upon many elaborate three-figured blouses. Bugle, iridescent, and jet beads are running the gayer beadings a close race. One house is showing a very expensive blouse developed in cherry red duvetyne and trimmed with great paillettes of jet beads. Festoons of the beads drip from the elbows and wrists of the georgette sleeves, and a banding of iridescent beads finish off the blouse hem.

Another novel trimming is narrow ribbons formed into a pattern. A taupe duvetyne garnished with a bow-knot pattern made from olive and cherry ribbons is shown, insets of patent leather, oil cloth, kid and heavy leather are plentiful.

Batik blouses abound. They employ shades of brick, plum, wistaria, or flame, with real patterns rather than the intricate maze of their first season. Elephants, totem poles, camels, and the scarab seem popular patterns.

For evening wear filmy slip-overs of tulle such as lace, net, metallic laces, or filmy silks, are shown. These blouses are so elaborately beautiful and are worn with such gorgeous skirts of heavy broadened satin that a season of skirts and decollete blouses rather than bona fide evening gowns is prophesied.

The less pretentious realm of blouses shows hand-made models of batiste, linen, lawn, or voile plentifully adorned with hemstitching, drawnwork, lace, tucking, or medallion inserts. It is only this type of waists that is shown in the lighter shades of flesh, pink, or white. Georgettes and satins employ only the deeper and brighter colors.

ORDINANCE 339

An Ordinance Concerning the Passage of the City of Rushville, Indiana, From City of the Fifth Class to a City of the Fourth Class.

Whereas the population of the City of Rushville, Indiana, according to the last preceding United States Census, taken in 1920, is 5498;

And, whereas the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within said City for the year 1920, after deducting all exemptions therefrom as made, fixed and determined by the officers having authority therein, as appears from the certificate of the County Auditor of Rush County, Indiana, this day filed with the Clerk of the City of Rushville, Indiana, in the sum of $423,550 Dollars;

And, whereas by reason of the said valuation being in excess of Seven and One-half Million of Dollars, the City of Rushville, Indiana, has become a City of the Fourth Class;

Therefore, be it ordained by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana:

SECTION ONE—That the office of City Judge therein is hereby abolished, and duties thereof are hereby devolved upon and shall be possessed and exercised by the Mayor of said City.

SECTION TWO—That the Board of Public Works and the Board of Public Safety in said City are hereby abolished, and the respective duties and powers of said Boards shall devolve upon and be exercised by the Common Council of said City.

SECTION THREE—That the office of City Controller is hereby abolished in said City and the duties and powers thereof are devolved upon and shall be exercised by the City Clerk.

SECTION FOUR—That all salaries now being paid to the several City Officers, with the exception of the City Treasurer, be and the same are hereby fixed and continued at the same amounts, the said several officers are now receiving.

That the said City Treasurer of the City of Rushville, Indiana, shall receive the sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1500.00) per year.

SECTION FIVE—That in all other respects the affairs and conduct of the business of said City, and the powers, duties and emoluments of its several officers shall continue to be held and enjoyed, by them and each of them severally in the same manner they were so held, enjoyed and discharged prior to the passage of the said City from the Fifth class to the Fourth class, and as fixed in the ordinance in force at the time of such change of classification by said city, except where some other provision is made by law.

SECTION SIX—That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

A. B. IRVIN, Mayor.
EARL E. OSBORNE, City Clerk.

LEGION TO DRAFT BILL TO LEGALIZE BOXING

Vigorous Fight For Its Passage to be Made at Session of General Assembly in January

PROPOSE BOXING COMMISSION

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—

The Indiana department of the American Legion will draft and have introduced at the regular session of the Indiana General Assembly in January, a bill authorizing the creation of a state boxing commission, and legalizing boxing in Indiana, according to announcement by L. Russell Newgent, department adjutant.

The department executive committee, Mr. Newgent said, has appointed the following committee to draft the bill: Floyd Murray, Hammond, chairman; James H. Mason, Gary, department athletic officer, and Dr. John H. Gilpin, Ft. Wayne.

A vigorous fight for the passage of the bill will be made at the session of the General Assembly by the department legislative committee, Mr. Newgent said. The proposed law will be based on boxing commission acts of neighboring states.

Birds and Traps.

Curiously enough, many birds, instead of fearing traps, develop a fondness for them, probably because they find them a source of ample feed which can be secured without danger to themselves. While this trait occasionally is something of a nuisance to the trapper, it often is of great assistance. It is believed that birds, having learned to recognize traps, will be apt to go to them for feed in the course of their migrations, and so, when caught, will furnish material for ornithologists' reports.

HARDING FAR IN LEAD, POLL SHOWS

Straw Vote Gives Republican Nominee Every State in Union Except One and "Solid South"

TOTAL NUMBER CAST 103,624

Harding Has Majority in All of North, Central and Western States—Leads in Maryland

Senator Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for president, will carry every northern, central and western state except one, if the first results on the national straw vote being taken by 8,000 Rexall drug stores, which were received here today, are any criterion.

A total of 103,624 votes have been cast in the poll which opened the middle of September, and of this total Harding receiving 61,597 and Cox 42,018. In all of the states outside of the "solid south" the republican nominee polled a vote of 51,103 and in the south 10,494. Cox's vote in the southern states was 17,105 in the remainder of the country 25,003.

Of the north, central and western states, Harding has a majority of the votes in every state with the exception of New Mexico. Cox was given a majority in the "solid south", with the single exception of Maryland.

On these compilations, Harding would receive 361 electoral votes and Cox 150.

Harding is leading in Indiana by five thousand, according to a bulletin received today, which showed him with 12,467 votes in this state as against 7,445 for Cox. The votes is divided in Indiana as follows:

Harding—male 8,392 and female 4,075; Cox—male 5,431 and female 2,024.

The Rexall vote is believed to be the most accurate and far reaching straw vote of any presidential election ever attempted in this country. Millions of ballots will be cast in this test vote, and at least two weeks before the November elections those who follow this straw vote will be able to tell without fear of contradiction who is to be the next occupant of the white House, and by how many votes he will win.

In order to accomplish this titanic task eight thousand Rexall Drug Stores in the United States have been designated as the balloting points. In each store a clerk has been detailed to conduct the ballot and thus insure a sure and fair test to vote. There will be no stuffing of the ballot boxes, nor will there be any repeating.

The big unknown quantity in the forthcoming election is the women's vote. In order to accurately compute this vote, two ballot boxes have been installed in each Rexall Drug Store, one for the male vote, the other for the women. Each night the vote is counted, that of men and women totaled separately. Each ballot clerk, in each town or city, after compiling his local vote, telegraph his returns to a central point in that state. This state captain in turn, compiles the total vote for the state and telegraph these returns to the Boston office of the United Drug Company.

In addition to this the state captain, after compiling the vote for his state, sends these returns back to each Rexall Drug Store in his state, where they are prominently displayed on each store window.

The Boston office, after receiving the reports from all forty-eight states, compiles the total national vote, for men and women, separately and a bulletin will be issued each night after Oct. 1 together with the total figures by states, which will be sent back to all the eight thousand drug stores and to many newspapers and news agencies throughout the country.

In order to handle this straw vote an interchange of upwards of thirty thousand messages, telegraphic and telephonic, will be necessary each day. Beginning October 1, announcement will be made daily of the vote, and with eight thousand drug stores to draw upon, it is safe to say that many million votes will be cast and compiled.

An actual test of the Rexall straw vote was made in the last presidential campaign. While balloting was conducted only 9 days in all the stores, yet several million votes were cast and five days before election the figures were announced.

This test vote showed that President Wilson had been re-elected by a small majority. It showed that he would carry California and also New Hampshire, an announcement which brought indignant denials from those opposed to him. When the total vote cast in the Rexall straw vote were compared with those cast in the November election, they differed from the actual figures less than one-half of one percent. With thirty days of balloting in the present test vote, not only can the readers be kept in momentary touch with the temper of the public, but they will get a very definite idea as to how the women of the nation will vote on November 2 next.

never felt any ill effects from it, though the day was exceptionally hot. Although his hair and his closely cropped mustach are white, he does not look a day over sixty for he has a sparkling eye and a ruddy complexion. Mr. Hood's father died a few years ago at the age of ninety-six years.

When they went to Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Hood finally found their "eighty" out on the prairie 5 miles from the nearest village. Their nearest neighbor was three miles distant. Prairie chickens and wolves were their only company. It was not many years until a township was organized and a school house erected. Now the country is thickly populated.

Mr. Hood came to Rush county with his parents before the war from North Carolina and carries with him an interesting document reminiscent of the old slave days. It shows the legal sale of three slaves by his father and mother to his uncle and reads as follows:

State of North Carolina—Burke County

Received of Lucius M. Tuttle eleven hundred and fifty dollars in full payment of Three Negro Slaves, to wit, Clementine aged about eighteen years, Stanhope aged about five years and Mary Ellen aged about one year, which slaves we warrant to be sound in health and mind and slaves for life, and we hereby bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and administrators, to warrant and defend the title of said slaves to Lucius M. Tuttle, his heirs, executors and administrators in witness whereof we hereunto subscribe our hand and seal, this 18th day of September, 1852.

articles of incorporation. There was some discussion previous to the appointment of the committee as to the amount for which the club should be incorporated, and as to how much common and preferred stock should be issued, but this matter was referred to the incorporation committee.

One other committee—the one on by-laws was appointed as follows: Donald Smith, R. L. Tompkins, I. L. Endres, Will M. Frazee and Will M. Sparks. The committee asked for some time to investigate the organization of other country clubs as it is desired to make the by-laws as near perfect as possible.

The question of when members should pay for their stock was raised, but it was suggested that the best plan probably would be to wait until the by-laws are adopted so that family membership, junior membership and other things to be taken up, are clearly defined.

There was a suggestion that an expert should be consulted before a site is selected and the chairman said that this would be done. He stated, also, that a man from the Shelbyville country club had already been consulted by the committee which has been soliciting memberships. Several sites have been inspected, but nothing done pending organization of the club. As the chairman of the meeting said last night, Rush county is peculiarly fortunate in having such good level land that not much of it is available for a golf course.

The chairman also said that investigating prospective sites, boosters of the club had taken into consideration location. Some had expressed the view that it should be close to Rushville and that it should be on the traction line if possible. On the other hand, others have suggested a different location. But Judge Sparks said that out of the 146 members pledged, 110 have automobiles, so that the question of going to and from the club grounds would not be a difficult one to solve.

The country club has almost sprung up over night. It was only a few weeks ago that a small band of enthusiasts started out to see if there was enough sentiment here to warrant the organization of a club. The committee met with very few rejections but instead found spontaneous approval of the idea.

FOUR ROADS ON PROGRAM

Commissioners Take up Petitions For 3 Gravel and Stone Highway

The commissioners had before them this afternoon petitions for four roads in Rush county, two in Posey township, one in Noble township and one on the Posey-Walker township line. All of the petitions except the one for the Noble township highway, called for gravel construction, and the other petition requested improvement with stone.

It was expected this afternoon that the viewers would be appointed to make a report on each road. The Posey township roads were known as the John C. Sullivan and Roy Swain highways. The Noble township road as the W. A. Norris road and the township line road as the O. J. Miller highway.

REGISTRATION ERRORS FOUND

Some Voters Register in Wrong Precinct and Others Who Registered are Not on Lists

MUST REREGISTER OCT. 4

Persons Who Change Precincts Have to Register Again—Provisions For Women Changing Names

Political workers have discovered, since copies have been made of the names of men and women who registered September 4, that some who actually registered are not included on the lists and that a number registered in the wrong precincts.

In both instances it will be necessary to register again on October 4, it is declared, if the persons affected wish to vote.

This also suggests that persons who are anxious to vote see the committee in their precinct at once to determine whether they are properly registered. Each committee man has a list and the number of each person who registered in September.

Persons who registered, but whose name through some clerical error, does not appear on the official lists, merely have to go through the formality of registering again on October 4, but those who registered in the wrong precinct, in addition to registering again, will have to fill out another blank provided by the board of registration, in which they must show the previous registration, giving the number of the precinct, and the facts as to how such previous registration was made.

Voters who move from one precinct to another in the same township after the first registration have to follow the same procedure, registering again and showing why.

Attention was also called today to the fact that women who change their name by divorce or marriage, after having once registered, shall file with the election board on election day a certified copy of the decree of the court, as in the case of divorce, or the certificate of marriage, before such a voter will be entitled to vote. It is stipulated that the election board shall preserve such certified copy of marriage certificate and return it to the county auditor where it may be obtained by the voter.

Where changes are made in registration of persons who register the second time, because of having registered in the wrong precinct in September, the registration board is required to certify such changes to the county auditor, who in turn makes the correction in the registration lists given to the election inspector, so that by no chance a voter duly qualified shall be denied the right of franchise.

The republican precinct committees may be consulted about registration as follows:

Ripley township, precinct No. 1, Byron Ball; No. 2, Fred Jessop; No. 3, Fred Brooks.

Rushville township, precinct No. 1, Fred Brooks.

ELMO DEMMER DIED FRIDAY

Former Rushville Boy Expires in Indianapolis

Elmo Demmer, age 26 years, died yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Demmer, 1815 College Ave., Indianapolis, after an extended illness of tuberculosis. The deceased was a former resident of this city, having lived here with his parents until about eight years ago when they moved to Indianapolis. He saw service during the world war.

Mr. Demmer is survived by his parents; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Keating, and the Misses Mary and Agnes Demmer, and two brothers, James and Alexander. The deceased was a nephew of Mrs. Lote Carter and Mrs. Denny Ryan, living in this city.

The funeral services will be conducted Monday morning at the SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral in Indianapolis.

Vice-President of Indiana Auto Concern Makes Announcement

(By United Press)

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 25.—Announcement was made today that the Croy Elkhart Corporation had returned to the pre-war prices, R. R. Donaldson, vice-president of the corporation, said today.

This is the first case of a manufacturer of medium price cars making a reduction, he stated. He gave the reason for the reduction because of the general condition in the automobile industry.

"This action on our part," he declared, "will undoubtedly result in increased activities in the motor plant."

MOTION PICTURE OF PICNIC REACHES CITY

Film Made by Pathe Exchange Is Purchased and Will be Shown at Princess

GOOD EFFECTS ARE OBTAINED

The motion picture taken of the Community picnic which was held in the city park on September 17, arrived this morning, and will be shown during all of next week at the Princess theater Monday night. The photography was made by the Pathe exchange of Indianapolis, and over 500 feet was taken of the picnic.

A private showing was given this morning and many local people are easily recognized among the different views. Each township is taken separately and the women who had charge of the booths are given "close-up" views, all of which are very good. Some comical situations are presented when people were caught unawares. Walter F. Easley, manager of the Princess theater, has purchased the film, together with the negative. The picture may also be loaned to the Purdue Extension department, after its showing here.

SATURDAY DULL DAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Nothing Scheduled For Trial as Hudson Case Was Expected to Continue Over Today

DIVORCE MATTERS ARE HEARD

Circuit court was exceptionally quiet today following a busy week with jury trials. The case yesterday of the state against Orville Hudson, charged with encouraging the negligence of a juvenile, was expected to take more than one day, and it so happened that nothing was scheduled on the calendar today.

Judge Sparks this morning heard the matter of support in the divorce case filed this week of Bertha Hendricks against Elmer Hendricks. No decision was made on the support clause, and the court issued a restraining order against the defendant, as she had asked for in her complaint, setting out that he had threatened her life.

The divorce case of Vohland vs Vohland was sent to Fayette county this morning by Judge Sparks. Lettie Vohland, defendant in the case, filed the petition earlier in the week and it was acted upon favorably this morning in circuit court. Charles Vohland is the plaintiff in the action for divorce.

SAYS JAMIESON AIDED THE PAPER

Witness Asserts Democratic Financial Directors Put $4,000 in "Stars and Stripes"

SECRETARY ON THE STAND

Committee Turns to Ohio Governorship Campaign in 1918 Following Lockwood Testimony

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 25.—W. D. Jamieson, financial director of the democratic national committee, gave $4,000 to Mrs. E. M. Parke, his secretary, which she put into the "Stars and Stripes," a paper for the war veterans, Mrs. Parke testified before the senate campaign investigating committee today.

She refused to tell the names of other democrats who loaned money to put into the paper.

No member of the democratic national committee has ever loaned money for the paper at any time or invested in it, she declared.

Mrs. Parke testified that several republicans have made efforts to force her to sell the paper.

Senator Kenyon announced the adjournment of the expenditures committee at Washington and that they will not go to St. Louis to conduct an investigation there October 18.

Guy Mason, a Washington representative of the League to Enforce Peace testified before the committee concerning the contributions to the league of $815,000 fund.

He said he was partly responsible for Bernard E. Baruch's $47,000 contribution.

"We tried to get $75,000 from him," Mason said, "but he only gave us $47,000. We also tried to get Henry Ford to give $200,000 but he did not give a nickel."

The committee planned to turn its attention today to the Ohio governorship campaign of 1918, during which it was implied by a witness at the committee's hearing yesterday, Governor Cox received a concealed contribution from the Dayton Metal Products Company. The implied charge, made by George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, led to the summoning of H. F. Talbot, who, Lockwood said, was president of the Metal Products Company in 1918, and officials of the company and of the City National Bank of Dayton.

Lockwood testified that in June, 1918, the Dayton Metal Products Company paid a $5,000 personal note of Governor Cox, and added that "It appears to me from all the circumstances that it must have been contribution to Mr. Cox's campaign fund."

Traded Rushville Buggy For 80 Acres of Land on Iowa Prairie

That Was in 1868, But a Few Days Before Coming to Indiana, John A. Hood, Who Has Been Visiting Here, Sold a Quarter Section at Auction for $500 an Acre.

John A. Hood, who was reared in Rush county, a short distance east of Sexton, traded a Poundstone buggy bought in Rushville in 1863 for eighty acres of prairie land in Carroll county, Iowa.

He and his wife packed their belongings in a few small boxes and hit the trail for the "far west"—it was so regarded then. Just before coming to Indiana last week to attend the G. A. R. encampment at Indianapolis, he sold a quarter section of Carroll county land at auction for $500 an acre and still has 480 acres left. Mr. Hood said he wanted the owner of the 80 acres to take the horse along with the buggy but it was refused.

It's "God's country" out there, Mr. Hood believes, but he still has

ERA OF STABILITY HARDING PROMISE

Republican Nominee For President Addresses Thousands of Commercial Travelers

HITS AUTOCRATIC METHODS

Says There is Opinion We Have Had Enough of Government Excessively Centralized

(By United Press)

Marion, O., Sept. 25.—An era of business stability and of business-like government was promised by Senator Harding today in a front-porch speech to a gathering of several thousand commercial travelers who came from all parts of the Harding and Coolidge Traveling Men's League.

The business methods of the Democratic administration, both in the conduct of its own affairs and in its relations to private enterprise, were denounced by the Republican nominee as "meddling and autocratic" to a degree threatening industrial chaos. He outlined a policy of common counsel in contrast to "one-man judgment" and pledged himself to "an idealism based on such sense that it does not treat the nation's business with suspicion and contempt."

"I believe that everywhere in the land," said Senator Harding, "there is the opinion that we have had enough of government excessively centralized in executive powers; enough of autocratic government unwilling to heed counsel and advice; enough of government which ignores the representative branch and its close contact with the popular will. I want it very explicitly understood that my election to the executive office means a complete change from the one-man policy which has characterized our national government during the last seven years."

"I believe that the people of America need not be told that they pay the bills of administrative government, whose distension for war still remains overdistended for peace. It has become common knowledge that there are between 700,000 and 800,000 persons on the pay roll of the United States, who will be kept there of course, unless we have a new management. The people know very well that only an intelligent opposition prevented the present administration from making an expenditure of over $11,000,000,000 in a peace year, and the eleven billions would have been a reasonably large draft upon a people who in 1916 paid $1,000,000,000 for their current expenses of government. The people know already that when the war came upon us American business was facing disruption, and the American workingman unemployment, and that another year of folly now would mean industrial plants, cold in idleness, Continued on Page Two

GRAND JURORS SWORN IN

Between 25 and 30 witnesses from all parts of the county were present today to testify before the grand jury that was in session. The grand jurors were instructed this morning by Judge Sparks, and Ed J. Dolan of Union township was sworn in as foreman of the investigating body.

Twenty-five of the witnesses today were from Arlington and the vicinity of the scene of the murder which took place one week ago tonight, when Mrs. Cordelia Dunn was shot and killed by Fred Dunn, her husband.

Prosecutor Stevens stated that Dunn could not be brought before the grand jury, as his evidence was needed for the trial of the witnesses were from Carthage but no information of the investigation in that community was given out.

The grand jury was not expected to complete its work today, and will be in session again Monday, when the murder case investigation will be completed, which will mean that a report will be made at that time.

MASKED BANDITS LOOT TRAIN NEAR CHICAGO

Go Through Six Registered Mail Sacks and Obtain Between $10,000 and $80,000

STOP FLYER AT TUCKER, ILL.

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—Masked bandits early today robbed the mail car of the Illinois Central flyer, as the train was approaching Chicago and looted six registered mail sacks.

The loot in the sacks was estimated at between $10,000 and $80,000.

A check is being made to determine the exact amount.

The same train was recently robbed by Leroy Walton, who was killed in a revolver battle by the police after he had been apprehended. He obtained about $85,000.

The bandits forced the train to stop at a block signal at Tucker, Ill. The robbers then jumped into the mail train. Five clerks were bound hand and foot and two robbers investigated the sacks.

As the train was nearing Chicago the bandits forced the train crew to stop the train and they got off. Police squads have been scattered throughout that district in an attempt to apprehend the men.

PROBE GAMBLING CLIQUE

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 25.—A reported gambling clique during the last world series was under investigation today by authorities in charge of the grand jury probe into the base ball scandal. It was reported that two gambling cliques operated during the 1919 world series between the White Sox and the Reds, one betting on Chicago and the other on Cincinnati to win.

FIRST STEP TO ORGANIZE TAKEN

Directors Elected and Committees Appointed to Write By-Laws and Incorporate Country Club

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Committee Reports 146 Pledged to Take Stock and Number Will Probably be Increased

The first steps toward the organization of a country club were taken last night at a meeting in the court house assembly room when nine directors were elected, a committee to incorporate the club was appointed and a committee to draw up the by-laws was selected.

The next meeting will be the call of the chairman, Will M. Sparks, who presided last night, and will probably be held whenever the by-laws committee is ready to report.

Approximately one hundred of 146 men who have pledged themselves to take a share of stock in the club, were present for the meeting and a very active interest was taken by everyone, indicating that the club will be a success from the start because of the support it has.

The names of those who have agreed to join were read when the election of directors was under consideration, and after the meeting, three more names were added to the list. It is expected that this number will be increased as a few prospective members have not yet been interviewed.

There was considerable discussion as to how the directors should be elected and for what terms, but it was finally decided that there should be nine directors, elected for terms of three, two and one years, so that there would be a change of board would be chosen every year.

A. L. Gary moved that the nine men on the committee were instrumental in forming the organization, be elected directors, but Judge Sparks said that he could not serve on the board because of the time which would be required. Will M. Frazee suggested that in view of the fact that there were a number of men outside of Rushville who had taken stock, one or more of the directors should be selected from outside Rushville.

With this idea in view, J. W. Anderson was appointed on the board in place of Judge Sparks, which makes the personnel of the first board of directors as follows:

Dr. J. C. Sexton, Harry G. Francis and Robert E. Mansfield, to serve for three years; J. W. Anderson, John A. Tittsworth and Earl H. Payne, to serve for terms of two years, and Robert L. Tompkins, Will O. Feudner and I. L. Endres to serve for one year.

The meeting voted to empower the board of directors to take options on sites for club grounds and report to the club membership. Members of the board suggested that any member of the club having ideas in regard to a site, should present them to the board, which wished to have the views of all the members.

The chairman appointed Dr. Sexton, Mr. Mansfield and Donald Smith as a committee to draw up

I. & C. HAULS FIRST HOGS

Stock Pens Will be Constructed at Hackleman's Stop Soon

The first carload of hogs shipped over the local division of the I. & C. traction line a few days ago was consigned by Esstis Webb living west of Rushville. The hogs were loaded at Hackleman's stop, west of Rushville, where the I. & C. stock yards will be located, shortly after five a. m. and were unloaded in the stock yards in Indianapolis before seven o'clock the same morning. Construction of the pens will be started as soon as material can be obtained.

The I. & C. also has received two steel trailers for use when traffic is congested, and has two more ordered.

9,000,000 WOMEN WILL VOTE NOV. 2
They Undoubtedly Hold The Balance of The Political Power, It Is Estimated
MAINE IS AN EXAMPLE
32 Percent of The Women Voted And if Conditions Over U. S. Are Same a Big Vote Expected

Washington, Sept. 25.—About 9,000,000 women will vote in the November election and they undoubtedly hold the balance of political power. This statement is based on a computation made from the woman's vote in the Maine election.

About 80,000 women voted in the Maine election. Based upon the census of 1910 that number is 32 percent of the number of women 21 years of age who live in Maine. The Maine women number, according to the 1910 census, 248,309.

In the United States, according to latest census statistics, there are 26,883,566 women of voting age. If the ratio of 32 percent which existed in the Maine election prevails in all the States, and it probably will as the women generally will want to vote for the first time, there will be cast in the November elections an aggregate woman vote of 8,602,741, or nearly nine millions.

In the Northern states the percentage probably will be higher, and in the Southern states lower because in the "Solid South" the black man is largely disfranchised, and the negro woman will receive the same political discrimination in that section. But the Nation's average probably will be about 32 percent, which will give nine millions.

Similar statistics show that there are 29,577,690 men of voting age in the United States. In the presidential election of 1916 there were cast 18,528,743 ballots, 62 percent of the total male population 21 years of age. It can hardly be expected that so large a percentage of the women will vote, but it may be safely said that at least 32 percent of the them will.

Therefore it is evident to all observers that the women now hold the political balance of power. In the Maine election about 75 percent of the women voted the republican ticket. If that percentage should prevail in all the states north of the Mason and Dixon line and in the West a republican landslide of unprecedented magnitude would occur. That landslide is confidently expected by the republican managers and indeed in Washington is practically already acknowledged by democratic observers.

But it will not require 75 percent of the nine million women voting the republican ticket to cause a landslide to Harding and Coolidge. If 32 percent of the women voters in New York participate in the election it will add nearly a million votes in the Empire State. In 1916 Hughes carried New York by more than 100,000, the total vote being 1,706,354. Had the women voted then, a 100,000 plurality would have been increased several times over.

In Pennsylvania a 32 percent ratio would have added nearly 750,000 woman's votes to the total of nearly 1,300,000 cast for Hughes in 1916. Hughes carried Pennsylvania by 181,950, or about one fourth of the women votes that may be cast in Pennsylvania in November.

Wilson carried Ohio in 1916 by 89,503. In Ohio, if the 32 percent ratio occurs nearly half a million women will vote, eleven times Wilson's plurality in 1916.

There can be no question but that the women now hold the key to the National political situation and can throw victory to republicans or democrats. Judging from the way they voted in the Maine election it would seem that a great majority of the newly enfranchised citizens are preparing to line up throughout the country, except in the South, for Harding and Coolidge.

Every intelligent observer must agree that the result in Maine was a complete repudiation of the League of Nations by the women, and a tremendous republican victory, which is ominous of democratic defeat in November. Women can justly claim a great share of the victory in Maine. Had the women voted for the League the victory would have been equally significant of democratic victory in November.

WANDERER CASE GOING TO TRIAL

Ex-Lieutenant Charged With Mur-
dering Girl Wife of a Year and a
"Ragged Stranger"

TO BE TRIED IN CHICAGO

Case Was Given Nationwide Publicity Because of The Mystery Attached to it

Chicago, Sept. 25—Charged with murdering his girl-wife of a year and of slaying a "ragged stranger" whom he is alleged to have hired to stage a fake hold-up so he could kill his wife Carl Wanderer ex-army lieutenant, is scheduled to go on trial for his life here October 4.

The Wanderer case was given nationwide publicity because of the mystery attached to it. Wanderer, just out of the army, was working in his father's butcher shop. One night, according to the first story he told police, he returned home with his wife to find a "ragged dressed stranger" standing in the vestibule of their home. The "ragged stranger", police said Wanderer told them, ordered them to throw up their hands.

Wanderer stated it was dark in the vestibule. Instead of complying with the stranger's demand, Wanderer fired. Then the police arrived they found the young wife and the alleged hold-up man dead.

Wanderer for a time convinced the police that he was telling the truth until they traced the ownership of the pistol used by the "ragged stranger." It was found that the revolver had originally been sold to Wanderer.

After a grueling cross-examination, Wanderer is alleged to have confessed to State's Attorney Ma-clay Hoyne that he had killed both.
He killed his wife, about to become a mother, because, according to the alleged confession, he was tired of civilian life and wanted to get back in the army.

It's a softer life in the army", he told interviewers.

He killed the "ragged stranger", the alleged confession stated, because he wanted to prevent any double crossing.

According to the story, police say Wanderer told them, he hired the "ragged stranger" in a West Madison street lodging house for three dollars. To date his body has not been identified, though it has been lying in the county morgue for many months.

Following the alleged confession
Wanderer stated he didn't care what happened to him. He said his mind was at rest and he was ready for the walk to the gallows.

The state plans to demand that he be hung.

TO BAR NEGROES FROM EXCLUSIVE SECTION

Capitol Avenue Presidents in India-

INJUNCTION SUIT IS FILED

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25—Protective associations in cities throughout the country are watching with interest an injunction suit pending in Superior court seeking to restrain the erection of high fences around the property of a negro, which he recently bought in a "white district."

The suit is that of Dr. Lucian Merriweather colored dentist who bought the property on North Capitol avenue in a section heretofore occupied exclusively by white residents. A ten foot fence runs along one side of the negro's property from an adjacent one.

A temporary injunction order has been issued pending the hearing of the case. This was issued after the ten-foot fence had been erected and limited the fence on the other side to six feet.

Member of the Capitol avenue
Protective association, an organization designed to keep negroes from moving into the community are fighting the case. The suit is regarded as a test of strength and if the whites are victorious like proceedings are expected to be started in the other sections of the city where negroes have invaded. Also, if they are victorious similar organizations in other cities are preparing to resort to the fence method to bar the negro from their neighborhood.

ARLINGTON TO OPEN THE SEASON SUNDAY

Of the Fall

HAS SOME COLLEGE PLAYERS

The Arlington A. C. football team will play the Shelbyville Commercials tomorrow at Shelbyville in the first game of the football season for this part of the state.
Coach Hutchinson of the Arlington team is confident that he has a bunch of players that can give any team a good stiff game.

The Arlington team last year had a fast team and played some of the strongest team in the state. Ross Hutchinson, a former college player, is coaching, and Howard Hawk is acting as manager. At present time Coach Hutchinson has 18 men on the string, all of whom have had college and high school football experience.

The probable line-up for the game tomorrow will be J. Ferris, center;
T. Wilcoxen, right guard; C. Winslow, right tackle; M. Whicker, right end; R. Kemp, left guard; J.
Whicker, left tackle; A. Mefsker, left end; L. Beach, full back; Northam, left half; C. Northam, right half; J. Wilcoxen, quarter back.
The Arlington team will probably play a return game at Shelbyville again next Sunday, as they have no game scheduled for that day.

RIVER AND FOUNTAIN

ONCE there was a Little River running near a beautiful Fountain in a garden.

In the sunlight Fountain throwing its stream of water made wonderful colors and it sparkled and splashed as it fell into the big basin beneath it.

"Oh, how beautiful it is," said the Little River looking up at the Fountain.

"How I wish I could sparkle and make beautiful colors as it does in the sunlight."

The Fountain tossed its waters higher and splashed louder when it heard the Little River's lament.

"I am sorry for you," it said, "for it must be quite dull down where you are; and very tiresome, too, running on as you have to over the rough stones.

"The world is very beautiful up here and as I dance and splash everyone who comes this way stops to admire me. Yes, I pity you and I do not wonder that you admire me and wish you could be in my place."

The Little River did not dare reply to the Fountain. It was too far above it, and as all the Fountain said seemed true to Little River, it ran along about its work, still wishing it was beautiful.

That night when all was still and the water at the Fountain had been turned off, a big tree, swaying over the river, spoke to it.

"Little River, I heard you complaining today that the big fountain was very beautiful and you wished you were like it," said the Tree.

"Oh, yes, but I am only a lowly little river and can never hope to be like the lovely Fountain," replied Little River.

"Yes, the Fountain is beautiful," said the Tree, "but do you not know that it is your water that supplies the beautiful Fountain and if you were not here there would be no Fountain."

Little River almost forgot to move, it was so surprised. "It cannot be true," it said. "I never could get up there; you must be mistaken."

"It is true," said the Tree, "the water that sparkles and flashes at the Fountain comes from here. It is true that some man-made power forces it to the fountain bed, but the water comes from you, Little River, so do not envy the Fountain any more for without you the Fountain would not be beautiful."

The next morning, in the sunlight the Little River ran so swiftly over the rocks and stones that it almost jumped from its bed, it was so happy, and the big Fountain looking down upon it wondered how it could seem so joyous.

But though the Fountain was as beautiful as before, Little River was never again envious for was it not from it that the Fountain got its beauty?

Little River never stopped to tell the Fountain what it knew. "I could not be any happier," said Little River, "and it might make the Fountain sad to know that its loveliness came from a lowly little river."

Elaine Hammerstein at Princess

"It's all in the point of view," and in Elaine Hammerstein's newest Solzmitz Picture, "The Point of View," the question of whether or not it's best to swallow family pride and take the world's buffetings with a smile is expounded in a story that is full of the drama of life.

"The Point of View" will be shown at the Princess Theatre today. It is the story of the Thorncroft family, and aggregation of persons with blue-blooded traditions, impoverished fortunes and an incapacity to cope with the world's problems.

Marjorie Thorncroft, portrayed by Elaine Hammerstein, is the only practical member of the household and sacrifices her own happiness to further the ambitions of her relatives. She marries a man whom she does not love in order to be able to support his money, to provide a European musical education for her violinist brother. The brother fails in his aspirations, and then the storm breaks.

Edith Ellis, author of a number of stage successes, wrote "The Point of View" and Alan Crosland directed. Included in the supporting cast are Rockcliffe Fellows, Arthur Housman, Hugh Huntley, Helen Lindroth, Cornish Beck, and Warren Cook.

Texas Guinan at Mystic

Texas Guinan, long a favorite of Richmond movie fans tops the bill at the Mystic today in a stirring western drama, "The Sacrifice." Billy West and Billy Franey also lend their efforts in a most enjoyable program.

"The White Dove," a Robertson-Cole special in which H. B. Warner will be seen at the Mystic Theater for two days starting Monday sounds the depths of human frailty and in most dramatic fashion proves that even the strongest is weak at times.

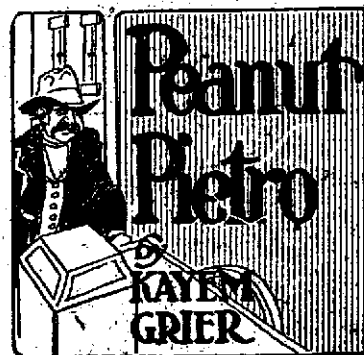

The picture is founded on the novel of the same name by William J. Locke, the famous English novelist, who never penned a more powerful story than this narrative of "the sins of the father" which are visited upon the son. The central character, played by Mr. Warner, is Sylvester Lanyon, a British physician, who remembers his wife now dead, as the finest woman who ever lived.

He does not realize the secret which is in the heart of his fine old father, a country gentleman, who remembers vividly the day when the daughter-in-law came to him and confessed that momentarily she had given way to the caresses of a former lover. She was penitent, and the father, in his deep knowledge of humanity, knew that she repented and would sin no more.

He never suspects that this will come to the ears of the son, from whom he has kept the secret. But the man in the case, a close friend of the son, Sylvester Lanyon, becomes the victim of a runaway accident, and dies in the home of the doctor, not however, before he has gasped out, in delirium, the secret of his love for the dead wife of his friend.

Dr. Lanyon is embittered. He leaves his father and his little girl whom he fears may not be his own child, and goes to London. While there he sees acted out a drama which teaches him tolerance and reconciles him to what heretofore he has considered a ruined life.

YOU know other day when I tell you bouta go een dat restaurant and make a water mad, dreenka too moocha coffee? Well, lasa night I invita my frien go weeth me een dat place. I no lika dat waiter and he no lika me, too, so I feegure was gooda idee getta pretty hungry so could eat everything before he have time for taka back to da cook.

But I tink my frien getta leetle deegust. He say, "Wot's matter, Pietro, you eata too queeck?" He tella me I getta indigest eef eata so fast. I say wot's deefrence eef eata queeck getta indigest, and eef no eata queeck I am still hungry.

My frien say I should geewa tip for da waiter when we stoppa eat and go home. I was een da fiever one time when he tip and I no like ver mooch. So I tella my frien mebbe was besta idee just skid leetle bit. But you know I gotta wring idee bouta wot was dat tip when my frien explaina weeth me. So I tella heem alla right eef dat waiter no taka my food back to da cook I tip heem and eef he do I hit heem.

I aska my frien wot was besta way for tip. He say when pay for da food geewa waiter forty cents for tip. But when we was feerish I geewa ten cents and tella heem was justa leetle skid.

But I tink he try getta fresh weeth me, I dunno. Jusa before we leavea dat place he breenga leetle bowl wot's all weeth water. I ask my frien wot was dat for and he say wappa da feenger een. Indian Styles in The Fall Blouses

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for United Press)

New York, Sept. 25.—All of the season's fashion offerings are announcing that this is to be a combination salad year as far as garb is concerned and blouses are heralding this fact more loudly of all style trophies.

The day of the one-color, one-material blouse is a thing of the sartorial past. Two colors and two fabrics are an absolute necessity, and the nearer the garment is to Joseph's coat effect, the better. Another high spot in blouse style is that any blouse that's in, must be out. It can stay outside the skirt band in one of many ways—tie-back long Russian peplum, apron, panels—but never inside can it be.

The Avenue is showing chic models every day that exploit these new fashion trends. One of the most novel combinations is that of georgette or satin with fine leather or yacca kid panels. A leading house shows such a model in rust georgette with a front panel of the same colored kid. The blouse is shirred into a short peplum which falls over the skirt, and soft ribbons of rust catch the fullness of the georgette sleeves at the wrist.

Panels of duvetyne on blouses of georgette or satin are very popular. These panels are generally of a contrasting hue and are lavishly adorned. Thus, one house shows a model of peacock blue georgette with panel of chow brown duvetyne. This panel is covered with a scroll design in gold braid. Other models are shown in such color combinations as leaf brown and burnt orange, midnight and electric blue, rust and canary yellow, cherry or "holly" red and black, or reseda and emerald green.

The vogue of garish and elaborate trimmings is still on, but the Oriental seems giving way to the Indian, both as to design and coloring. Thus, the overworked combination of Chinese red and Algerian blue is giving way to the Aztec coloring of crimson and canary, or touches of brick.

Scroll work and conventional patterns continue to be worked out in gay wools, chenille, metallic gold or silver threads, or beads and buttons. The ordinary tin trouser button is found upon many elaborate three-figured blouses. Bugle, tridiscant, and jet beads are running the gayer beadings a close race. One house is showing a very expensive blouse developed in cherry red duvetyne and trimmed with great palettes of jet beads. Festoons of the beads drip from the elbows and wrists of the georgette sleeves, and a banding of iridescent beads finish off the blouse hem.

Another novel trimming is narrow ribbons, formed into a pattern. A taupe duvetyne garnished with a bow-knot pattern made from olive and cherry ribbons is shown in sets of patent leather, oil cloth, kid and heavy leather, are plentiful.

Battle blouses abound. They employ shades of brist, blue, violet, or flame, with real patterns rather than the intricate maze of their first season: Elephants, totem poles, camels, and the scarab seem popular patterns.

For evening wear filmy slip-overs of tissues such as lace, net, metallic laces, or filmy silks, are shown. These blouses are so elaborately beautiful and are worn with such gorgeous skirts of heavy broadened satin that a season of skirts and décolleté blouses rather than bona fide evening gowns is prophesied.

The less pretentious realm of blousedom shows hand-made models of batiste, linen, lawn, or voile plentifully adorned with hemstitching, drawnwork, lace, tucking, or medalion inserts. It is only this type of waiste that is shown in the lighter shades of flesh, pink, or white. Georgettes and satins employ only the deeper and brighter colors.

ORDINANCE NO. 332

An Ordinance Concerning the Passage of the City of Rushville, Indiana, From City of the Fifth Class to a City of the Fourth Class.

Whereas, the population of the City of Rushville, Indiana, according to the last preceding United States Census, taken July 1, 1910, was 5,489; and whereas the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within said City for the year 1920, after deduction of all exemptions therefrom, as made, fixed and determined by the officers having authority therein, as appears from the certificate of the County Auditor of Rush County, Indiana, this day filed with the Clerk of the City of Rushville, Indiana, in the sum of $442,750 Dollars.

And whereas by reason of the said valuation being in excess of Seven and One-half Million of Dollars, the City of Rushville, Indiana, has become a City of the Fourth Class.

Therefore, be it ordained by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana:

SECTION ONE—That the office of City Judge therein is hereby abolished, and duties thereof are hereby developed upon and shall be possessed and exercised by the Mayor of said City.

SECTION TWO—That the Board of Public Works and the Board of Public Safety in said City are hereby abolished, and the respective duties and powers of said Boards shall devolve upon and be exercised by the Common Council of said City.

SECTION THREE—That the office of City Controller is hereby abolished in said City and the duties and powers thereof are devolved upon and shall be exercised by the City Clerk.

SECTION FOUR—That all salaries now being paid to the several City Officers, with the exception of the City Treasurer, be and the same are hereby fixed and continued at the same amounts, the said several officers are now receiving.

That the said City Treasurer of the City of Rushville, Indiana, shall receive the sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1500.00) per year.

SECTION FIVE—That in all other respects the affairs and conduct of the business of said City, and the powers, duties and emoluments of its several officers shall continue to be held and enjoyed by them and each of them severally in the same manner they were so held, enjoyed and discharged prior to the passage of the said City from the Fifth class to the Fourth class, and as fixed in the ordinance in force at the time of such change of classification by said City, except where some other provision is made by law.

SECTION SIX—That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

A. B. IRVIN, Mayor
EARL E. OSBORNE, City Clerk.

LEGION TO DRAFT BILL TO LEGALIZE BOXING

Vigorous Fight For Its Passage to be Made at Session of General Assembly in January

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25—

The Indiana department of the American Legion will draft and have introduced at the regular session of the Indiana General Assembly in January, a bill authorizing the creation of a state boxing commission, and legalizing boxing in Indiana, according to announcement by L. Russell Newgent, department adjutant.

The department executive committee, Mr. Newgent said, has appointed the following committee to draft the bill: Floyd Murray, Hammond, chairman; James H. Mason, Gary, department athletic officer, and Dr. John H. Gilpin, Ft. Wayne.

A vigorous fight for the passage of the bill will be made at the session of the General Assembly by the department legislative committee, Mr. Newgent said. The proposed law will be based on boxing commission acts of neighboring states.

Birds and Traps.

Curiously enough, many birds, instead of fearing traps, develop a fondness for them, probably because they find them a source of ample food which can be secured without danger to themselves. While this trait occasionally is something of a nuisance to the trapper, it often is of great assistance. It is believed that birds, having learned to recognize traps, will be apt to go to them for feed in the course of their migrations, and so, when caught, will furnish material for ornithologists' reports.

HARDING FAR IN LEAD, POLL SHOWS

Straw Vote Gives Republican Nominee Every State in Union Except One and "Solid South"

TOTAL NUMBER CAST 103,624

Harding Has Majority in All of North, Central and Western States—Leads in Maryland

Senator Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for president, will carry every northern, central and western state except one, if the first results on the national straw vote being taken by 8,000 Rexall drug stores, which were received here today, are any criterion.
A total of 103,624 votes have been cast in the poll which opened the middle of September, and of this total Harding receiving 61,597 and Cox 42,018. In all of the states outside of the "solid south" the republican nominee polled a vote of 51-103 and in the south 10,494. Cox's vote in the southern states was 17-105 in the remainder of the country 25,003.

Of the north, central and western states, Harding has a majority of the votes in every state with the exception of New Mexico. Cox was given a majority in the "solid south", with the single exception of Maryland.

On these compilations, Harding would receive 361 electoral votes and Cox 150.

Harding is leading in Indiana by five thousand, according to a bulletin received today, which showed him with 12,467 votes in this state as against 7,445 for Cox. The votes is divided in Indiana as follows: Harding—male 8,392 and female 4,075; Cox—male 5,431 and female 2,024.

The Rexall vote is believed to be the most accurate and far reaching straw vote of any presidential election ever attempted in this country. Millions of ballots will be cast in this test vote, and at least two weeks before the November elections those who follow this straw vote will be able to tell without fear of contradiction who is to be the next occupant of the white House, and by how many votes he will win.
In order to accomplish this titanic task eight thousand Rexall Drug Stores in the United States have been designated as the balloting points. In each store a clerk has been detailed to conduct the ballot and thus insure a sure and fair test to vote. There will be no stuffing of the ballot boxes, nor will there be any repeating.

The big unknown quantity in the forthcoming election is the women's vote. In order to accurately compute this vote, two ballot boxes have been installed in each Rexall Drug Store, one for the male vote, the other for the women. Each night the vote is counted, that of men and women totaled separately.
Each ballot clerk, in each town or city, after compiling his local vote, telegraph his returns to a central point in that state. This state captain in turn, compiles the total vote for the state and telegraph these returns to the Boston office of the United Drug Company.

In addition to this the state captain, after compiling the vote for his state, sends these returns back to each Rexall Drug Store in his state, where they are prominently displayed on each store window.

The Boston office, after receiving the reports from all forty-eight states, compiles the total national vote, for men and women, separately and a bulletin will be issued each night after Oct. 1 together with the total figures by states, which will be sent back to all the eight thousand drug stores and to many newspapers and news agencies throughout the country.

In order to handle this straw vote an interchange of upwards of thirty thousand messages, telegraphic and telephonic, will be necessary each day. Beginning October 1, announcement will be made daily of the vote, and with eight thousand drug stores to draw upon, it is safe to say that many million votes will be cast and compiled.

An actual test of the Rexall straw vote was made in the last presidential campaign. While balloting was conducted only 9 days in all the stores, yet several million votes were cast and five days before election the figures were announced.

This test vote showed that President Wilson had been re-elected by a small majority. It showed that he would carry California and also New Hampshire, an announcement which brought indignation denials from those opposed to him. When the total vote cast in the Rexall straw vote were compared with those cast in the November election, they differed from the actual figures less than one-half of one percent. With thirty days of balloting in the present test vote, not only can the readers be kept in momentary touch with the temper of the public, but they will get a very definite idea as to how the women of the nation will vote on November 2 next.

never felt any ill effects from it, though the day was exceptionally hot. Although his hair and his closely cropped mustache are white, he does not look a day over sixty for he has a sparkling eye and a ruddy complexion. Mr. Hood's father died a few years ago at the age of ninety-six years.

When they went to Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Hood finally found their "eighty" out on the prairie 5 miles from the nearest village. Their nearest neighbor was three miles distant. Prairie chickens and wolves were their only company. It was not many years until a township was organized and a school house erected. Now the country is thickly populated.

Mr. Hood came to Rush county with his parents before the war from North Carolina and carries with him an interesting document reminiscent of the old slave days. It shows the legal sale of three slaves by his father and mother to his uncle and reads as follows:

State of North Carolina—Burke County

Received of Lucius M. Tuttle eleven hundred and fifty dollars in full payment of Three Negro Slaves, to wit, Clementine aged about eighteen years, Stanhope aged about five years and Mary Ellen aged about one year, which slaves we warrant to be sound in health and mind and slaves for life, and we hereby bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and administrators, to warrant and defend the title of said slaves to Lucius M. Tuttle, his heirs, executors and administrators in witness whereof we hereunto subscribe our hand and seal, this 18th day of September, 1852.

FIRST STEP TO ORGANIZE TAKEN

articles of incorporation. There was some discussion previous to the appointment of the committee as to the amount for which the club should be incorporated, and as to how much common and preferred stock should be issued, but this matter was referred to the incorporation committee.

One other committee—the one on by-laws was appointed as follows: Donald Smith, R. L. Tompkins, I. L. Endres, Will M. Frazee and Will M. Sparks. The committee asked for some time to investigate the organization of other country clubs as it is desired to make the by-laws as near perfect as possible.

The question of when members should pay for their stock was raised, but it was suggested that the best plan probably would be to wait until the by-laws are adopted so that family membership, junior membership and other things to be taken up, are clearly defined.

There was a suggestion that an expert should be consulted before a site is selected and the chairman said that this would be done. He stated, also, that a man from the Shelbyville country club had already been consulted by the committee which has been soliciting memberships. Several sites have been inspected, but nothing done pending organization of the club. As the chairman of the meeting said last night, Rush county is peculiarly fortunate in having such good level land that not much of it is available for a golf course.

The chairman also said that investigating prospective sites, boosters of the club had taken into consideration location. Some had expressed the view that it should be close to Rushville and that it should be on the traction line if possible. On the other hand, others have suggested a different location. But Judge Sparks said that out of the 146 members pledged, 110 have automobiles, so that the question of going to and from the club grounds would not be a difficult one to solve.

The country club has almost sprung up over night. It was only a few weeks ago that a small band of enthusiasts started out to see if there was enough sentiment here to warrant the organization of a club. The committee met with very few rejections but instead found spontaneous approval of the idea.

FOURROADS ON PROGRAM

Commissioners Take up Petitions For 3 Gravel and Stone Highway

The commissioners had before them this afternoon petitions for four roads in Rush county, two in Posey township, one in Noble township and one on the Posey-Walker township line. All of the petitions except the one for the Noble township highway, called for gravel construction, and the other petition requested improvement with stone.

It was expected this afternoon that the viewers would be appointed to make a report on each road. The Posey township roads were known as the John C. Sullivan and Roy Swain highways, the Noble township road as the W. A. Norris road and the township line road as the O. J. Miller highway.
